How to Increase Citizens' Cybersecurity

The International Cybersecurity Forum (FIC) Agora white paper "United we stand, divided we fall. Citizens and 21st Century cybersecurity" is timely published. We are living in the age of big data, when more and more concerns arise about data security. The need for cybersecurity awareness is becoming increasingly urgent due to our dependence on ICT across all aspects of our society.

Is Africa the next cyber El Dorado

By Richard Dalleau

Countries that are evolving and becoming aware of cyber issues, an Internet market that is soaring, but also geopolitical issues and major gaps to fill: Africa is a cyber market that is both seductive and intimidating. To see more clearly, inCyber met with Franck Kié, General Commissioner of the Cyber Africa Forum, and Clément Rossi, Director of Partnerships of the FIC. An in-depth analysis.

Fighting in the Metaverse: a virtual world that is already available to our Army experts

By Mériadec Raffray

Se renseigner, influencer, leurrer, cibler, recruter, former. Le nouveau monde virtuel, augmenté et hybridé en gestation, génère un océan de données, dont les « terriens » comptent profiter pour mieux attaquer et défendre. Les meilleurs spécialistes civils et militaires étaient récemment réunis à l'École Militaire pour en parler.
